Enter into the Heart of God and Know God Love!

Blessed of my Heart, I, Saint Germain, enter into the great action of the Love of God, pouring forth from the Allness of God in the Great Central Sun, released and magnified by the Entire Spirit of the Brotherhood of Light so that you, blessed ones, might be surrounded in Love, nurtured by Love, and held in the strong embrace of the Great Magnet of God Love to keep you victorious upon the pathway Home in the return current, having mastered and attained all that is desired by the Heart of your own God Presence that becomes a record of Victory for all to appreciate as the standard of Perfection of each one who knows the Heart of God.

Perhaps you have not given due consideration in your own life as to what it means to know the Heart of God. Surely, while in the physical octave, all are caught up in what it means to have the love of parent, the love of spouse, love in courtship, love of friend, love of country, love of nature, love for the profession that you adopt for yourself. All this comes forth by way of preparation that ultimately is to lead you to the One Love that surpasses all others — the Love of God, the Love for God, the Love that is God.

As you begin the exercises of life, giving and receiving of the nurturing of the mother, of the father, of the loved one who would care for you, comfort you, protect you, you begin to understand how delicate is the Heart. How one, indeed, must take care to say only those things which come forth from the Heart that will not harm another's Heart. One must understand that to protect the Heart of another requires not allowing any slander of that beloved. One likewise protects that one from all manner of incursion that would tear away at the fabric of Harmony, of Peace. One likewise understands that to receive Love, one must allow the heart to be receptive to that Love, for Love cannot be present where there is not already the ability of a chalice prepared to hold that Love and to expand that Love.

All this takes place within each of your lifetimes as you enter into association, one with another, to put on more of the Attainment that is the Love of God given to you to enter into and to utilize wisely. When you, blessed ones, hold your Chalice high and receive the Love of your God Presence, is it not the same as receiving the Love of another's Presence focused upon your own lifestream? Think of it. Love is Love and ought not be misqualified merely because it comes from a source that you may not consciously entertain or is an unlikely source of Love to you. All Love that comes to you to fill your Chalice, even that Love flowing impersonally throughout all of life, comes forth from that same Source, namely the Love of your God Presence.

All of nature responds to you because you command with Love. It is this selfsame Love of your Heart that is the Commanding Presence streaming forth to which all nature responds! This is so even in relation to those lifestreams who are the object of your attention. They receive you upon currents of Love, and they afford you honor and respect on the return current of Love.

I hear you now: "Saint Germain, these are areas of life as old as the hills, known to every poet, everyone who has composed a love song." But is it so? Or have those who have entered into those brief moments of an awareness of the Love of which they wrote merely had a quick glimpse upon the screen of life of that which is always available? You, as the students of the Light under the canopy of the Secret Love Star that streams forth for you to partake of the glorious Radiance of Attainment born out of Love for God in all of life, you, blessed ones, can become the Fullness of that same Love.

The requirements are most simple to speak of and yet the greatest to accomplish, for you are required to have at hand the Wisdom to let that Love stream forth unconditionally, without prerequisite, without distortion. You are required to protect that Love as it goes forth with the Power and the Will of God, holding it inviolate as delicately as you would hold a rose. And yet God Love is even more powerful and intense than the Will and Power of God, for Love comes forth in such Fullness and Purity as to serve as the very foundation of all of Life!

Your God Presence has been in the process of initiating you in the ways of Love long before your first incarnation. You most assuredly knew the Love of God when you stepped forth and proclaimed "I AM." You understood the Oneness of God from whence you derived your Individualization and with the fullness of understanding the I AM as the Active Radiance of God Love.

Throughout your many incarnations, you have striven to return to that Oneness of God Love again. Practicing the inner action and communion with your God Presence further strengthens your ability to love unconditionally, gives you the understanding of what is required to hold fast to that Love, to protect that Love, to not squander that Love when it is given to you. When you interact with the Heart of your God Presence, you know what it means to be whole. There is no longer the sense of lack, separation, or aloneness. While in this state, you are then prepared to give the fullness of your own Heart's Love to other parts of life, for you know the Responsibility of Love. You know the Sacrifice of Love. You know the determination of Love, as it will not be denied, will not be gainsaid.

The Fullness of Love accepts the Authority over those areas of life given unto the keeping and the Responsibility of that one. And with that Authority comes such great Love that would not squander one erg of energy as misqualified substance toward any part of life. To have such capacity for self-mastery is nigh impossible absent the Heart of God within your own being stretching forth its Radiance and its Stream of Light into all areas of your life, unfurling the Flame of Love so that wherever returning karmas would otherwise appear, there Love is exercised as Violet Flame to transmute, to dissolve away on the instant all that would keep you from having the Fullness of Harmony in the Heart of Love that you desire.

For you to have the God Direction to chart the course of your present lifetime, let alone the many lifetimes which you have already lived, there has had to be the element of God Love coursing through you as the Divine

Direction of your being, the conscious election of your own making with your own Mighty I AM Presence prior to that embodiment so that you would have the opportunity to learn the lessons of that lifetime.

Is this not a foundation of God Love? Is this not a course divinely ordained from the Heart of your own God Presence? There is no thing, no action of Cosmic Law, no reaction to any part of life that you can place your attention upon that does not have a foundation of God Love if it is true to the nature of your own God Presence, if it is part of your Divine Plan, if it is, blessed ones, what you are to accomplish, to become, to be.

Understand well that to grasp fully what I speak of in this hour requires that you hold fast to the Heart of your own God Presence, that you galvanize your attention into that Heart. That you do not let go till you have felt the current of Light flow through your Heart and move within you. Touching the Love of God allows you to become that Love, for it is contagious. When you have become that Love, it stands to reason that if it is contagious then you may spread that contagion of God Love and embrace all that is God in life in the upward spiral generated in Love by your own Mighty I AM Presence!

Throughout your day, you may stop at any given moment and reflect upon my words and weigh in the balance whether or not you are in a state of consciousness born out of this Love or if you have departed Love's company. If there is anxiety, emotional turmoil, any form of anger, most assuredly you are not in the right vibration. You have heard this time and again. That right vibration, however, is the frequency of Love already present within your Heart, at one with the Love of God.

There are those saints and adepts of old who became such an acceleration of the Love of their God Presence in a given lifetime that those others who came into their immediate presence could only know that they, too, must love — so long as their own vibration and heart possessed even the slightest amount of Harmony. But when Harmony was absent, when instead all manner of turmoils, doubts, fears, human questionings, and separations took precedent, is it any wonder that such unfortunates could only entertain the sense of isolation when contacting that Love? But when the one in turmoil stays the course and begins the process of self-correcting, transmuting, invoking the Light, they find that each time they come into the surroundings of that adept of Love, their path becomes easier. They begin to be able to commune. Most assuredly that communion could have occurred long before, but because the Heart was not open, the Chalice not prepared, there could not be that sense of oneness at the level of the Heart.

Mark well, blessed ones, that a lifestream need not share all your beliefs in the outer consciousness to have the ability to commune with the Heart. Do not allow yourself to become so aloof from your brothers and sisters of Light that your Heart cannot reach out to the Heart of one who is hungry, who is thirsty for the Light, who desires the good of life that can only come forth when God is present. Understand the honor and respect due to every lifestream to enter into their own free-will election to choose God or to rebuke and rebuff God in their own life. You do realize, don't you, that this is what it means to have free will? You are either operating within the free-will election of your own God Presence or you are outside of that. No one can presume to know for another what is the Divine Will of the Individualization of God for that outer lifestream, what are the lessons to be learned. You can only know that all is held within the hands and the God Control of that Mighty I AM Presence.

Your Responsibility, when you understand the nature of God Love, is to give that Love so that there is a pathway open to receive another, to assist another, to acknowledge another. I repeat once more: At any given time during your day, you can stop and take a fleeting glance at where you are in consciousness, and you can know that it should be founded in God Love. It matters not the engagement, the effort, or the task. It matters not the thought or the energy through your own emotional body, for it all must be founded in God Love.

When this occurs throughout the land, there will be hearts communing with hearts, speaking the same language of God Love. There will be those who understand that to commune with God requires the setting aside of pettiness, because where there is pettiness, there is separation, as sure as the greatest gulf and abyss. Where there is discord, there is the absence of God Love. If that discord cannot be brought into God Control, transmuted, and the Heart allowed to resonate in Harmony and Love, then it will taint the very good that you would otherwise have accomplished. For no amount of striving can lead to any God Good absent Love.

This is not a syrupy sweet love which would make you ill if digested. It is a Love that is the prerequisite for the fullness of strength, for the Attainment of courage, even when you know not the specifics of what is commanded by your God Presence for you, but you know that you must move ahead with the calm resolve of God Love.

All things, blessed, are acting for you. The Law is abundant in the dimensions of God Love, in its varying degrees. Why, even the labels that Love is given are vast. But you will know the Love of God at its core by any name. For that Love will resonate with your God Presence, will prepare a pathway before you, unmistakable to follow. And you, blessed ones, who stay the course of that pathway will arrive home victorious. And the petals of the Rose of Sharon, the Rose of your own Heart, will be strewn before you to allow you to be buoyed into the Heart of your God Presence on the fragrance of Love.

There is no greater time than our celebration together on this a day of celebrating the Heart to place our attention upon the ultimate Love, the purest Love, and drink in that Love. As I send forth the Love of my Heart for the Love that is present on your Heart, won't you allow your Heart to be open to receive it. Allow your Heart to expand so that you may embrace all those heretofore held at arm's length and not entertained within the scope of your own Love. Won't you accelerate that Love of your Heart to glow and join with my Heart so that the Earth will have such an abundance of God Love that it will begin the process of Transmutation and unification of hearts around the globe.

I, Saint Germain, love you, as I already know you love God.

Blessed hearts, it all begins with Love! Where there is Love, all things are possible. You cannot for one moment limit your Mighty I AM Presence. For it is your Mighty I AM Presence that desires you to achieve all that is good, all that is worthy, all that is loving. For when the stamp of God Identity as Love is upon a thing, an action, a momentum, an energy, you cannot limit where that Love will end up. For wonder of wonders, it never ceases! It continues on! And that Love is the Eternality of the Presence of God in all of its Glory that knits together the Body Consciousness of The One.
