

Golden letters of living fire illumine the pages of the greatest poems, prayers, stories, and songs of all ages. These legacies of Victory serve as formulas for overcoming adversity, guiding individuals and societies down the Pathway of Destiny into the glories of a Golden Age and the Ascension in the Light. Such are the Labors of Love crafted by our Great Lord of Light and Life, the Maha Chohan, in his epic compositions — The Iliad, The Odyssey, and The Aeneid. At our forthcoming Easter Conclave and Wesak World Congress, we will embark upon a journey of inspiration and revelation alongside the Maha Chohan, directly through his magnificent Office and through the illumined examination of his written works, as The Great Chohan Reveals Labors of Love & Journey's End.

"NOW THROW HELICON OPEN, MUSES, LAUNCH YOUR SONG!
-Virgil, The Aeneid

Under the leadership of the Great Chohan, we shall navigate through these narratives of adversity and overcoming, merging with the strains of his indomitable Spirit that speak through the cadence, dialogue, imagery, and plot lines intended as a source of inspiration to gird up a civilization, to ennoble humanity, and to offer a shining example whereby one might emulate the initiates of these epics.

- * Join the journey of these heroes and heroines, symbolic of the Godhead Charioteer striving mightily to find his way back home.
- * Put yourself in the sandals of these pious and duty-bound champions, walking the path of initiation, and experience the rigors of real-life mastery that must be undertaken to win your Ascension.
- * Learn of the prescribed course for societies confronting the practical problems of life while staying true to the ideals of the Cosmic Honor Flame and the Purity of Cosmic Law.
- * Receive instruction and encouragement from our Beloved Lord Maha Chohan to draw the Light of your God Presence around you and prepare yourself for the great work at hand.

The Aeneid is likewise an unfinished work with an ending yet to be told. At the Wesak World Congress, each one will undertake their own heroic labors of Love as we seek to finish the unfinished Aeneid. We will become the personas upon the page, the Aeneas, Hector, King Priam, Joan of Ark, Odysseus, Alexander, and Achilles of our own time. Picking up the golden thread that the Great Chohan left in this noble account, we will strive to bring it to life and prove the Faith that He and so many of the Brotherhood have in the best of humanity, picking up the Mission of the Brotherhood of Light and carrying it forth, establishing the groundwork of the Dawning Golden Age of Saint Germain.

Rome was not built in a day, nor is a Golden Age. The Ascended Masters have literally planned for hundreds and thousands of years to establish the groundwork for such an age. At the Wesak World Congress 2010, the Torch Bearers of The Temple shall build upon this firm foundation of the Brotherhood of Light. Working together to establish the Foundations of the Great Commission, we will receive the Maha Chohan and each of the Chohans as they seek to convey the same surefire processes the Brotherhood has long utilized in planning and advancing the Great Work as well as the degree of individual and collective commitment that must be accepted for the accomplishment of our Activity's sacred Mission.

The Wesak World Congress is the platform upon which you may become more actively involved in bringing the continuing mission of The Temple of the Presence into the physical. As you look forward to your role in carrying out the Great Commission, meditate on the elements of our worldwide outreach, and the expansion of the Teachings and the Cosmic Light. Meditate upon each of the Chohans and their Ray of God Quality. Which of the Rays flows most naturally to you, and where can you make the greatest contribution? Each of the Masters has their unique projects that They desire to advance, and you have something to offer in fulfillment of their plans. Accept this opportunity to take up the Work of the Ascended Masters, entering into a closer, working relationship with Them and thereby allowing them to obtain the necessary grants and dispensations to assist you to be free for the service you have vowed to render on their behalf.

"Thus while he wrought, revolving in his mind
The ways to compass that his wish design'd
He cast his eyes upon the gloomy grove.
And then with vows implor'd the Queen of Love:
"O may thy pow'r, propitious still to me,
Conduct my steps to find the fatal tree,
In this deep forest; since the Sibyl's breath
Foretold, alas! too true, Misenus' death."
Scarce had he said, when, full before his sight,
Two doves, descending from their airy flight,
Secure upon the grassy plain alight.
He knew his mother's birds and thus he pray'd:
"Be you my guides, with your auspicious aid,
And lead my footsteps, till the branch be found,
Whose glitt'ring shadow gilds the sacred ground.
And thou, great parent, with celestial care,
In this distress be present to my pray'r!"

-Virgil, The Aeneid

The examination of the lives of these heroes will reveal their determination and fortitude, the rugged, well-tempered, flexible steel that was able to meet, stand, and advance through the adversities of life as they threw down the gauntlet in hand-to-hand mortal combat with the not-self and the forces opposed to the Light of the Christ. You will come to understand that journey and adversity is part of the Maha Chohan's message for its spirit of expression in never giving up and never turning back, no matter the sacrifice or labor long-suffering.

We shall revel in the unbroken, lyrical expression of Divine Love that is the core of these works of Wisdom, alluding to the fact that heroic accomplishments are brought forth by the Secret Ray of Divine Love, the alchemical key that allows individuals to transcend their mortal nature and accomplish the heroic deeds that originate in the Heart of the Mighty God Presence.

This Secret Ray of Divine Eros, of enduring Heroes, this Love that comes forth out of the reunion of God and man, that blossoms as compassion for the plight of one's brothers and sisters to such a degree that one asserts authority over the instincts of human nature and takes responsibility for the many labors of love unto journey's end, this Love that is compelled to find a way through the necessities of life and to tackle the improbable or the impossible is the theme of this Easter Conclave and World Congress.

"The time has come when you are once more invited into the circle of the Chohans to come together under our watchful eye, deliberating, discussing, and drawing forth your own genius in answer to Our Call. For indeed, We call one and all to come and expand Illumination's Flame, drawing forth the Patterns of Golden Ages fostered in the Mind of God. We, Initiates of old now ascended into the Ranks of the Brotherhood, assembled in our Cosmic Councils, afford you the benefit of Our Wisdom and Our Momentum so that you are not required to draw forth these Patterns from a blank page of an unwritten story. For there is a true story that has long been etched upon the screen of life, and it shall take hold as each Son and Daughter of God fulfill their Divine Destiny, understanding and living the life that is that story — the story of the Godhead Charioteer, the story of the Heroes of ages past, and the story, yet untold, that you are called to embody."

-The Maha Chohan

*Pathway to Destiny - The Great Chohan Reveals Labors of Love & Journey's End
Easter Conclave - March 31 - April 4, 2010*

We all are on an epic journey — vast and glorious to behold.
We know our destination sure, our natal birth proclaimed,
For Holy Purpose life mastery to attain.
And though the path takes many dips and turns,
The process speeds us constant on our way.

At last, when least expected the Heart awakens
— ignited by God Love,
And begins drawing forth the architect,
The Mighty I AM Presence true.
Laying foundations of the Temple of Identity
Establishing The Golden Age of One and future ones,
The fruit of labors proved by well-plotted course,
Ratifies The Great Commission, Ascended Masters laid.

I run to greet my destiny,
As the cycle now before me
Beacons every fiber of my being.
My Heart sets the rhythm, the tone and the pace
Speaking words I so need to hear.

"Come, oh come, be not afraid — behold, embrace the plan.
Your life is just beginning to unfold.
And as you weave the Golden Threads of Wisdom,
Your Heart will speak with Joy — in Love and Song.
For together we are united in Peace and Harmony
To know, to be, to act as God, the ONE throughout Eternity!"

GOD VICTORY! ONE AND ALL!

On behalf then of the Entire Spirit of the Brotherhood of Light, you are invited to set out on your Pathway of Destiny for the laying of the Foundations of the Great Commission during this Easter cycle. Come and renew your spirits, give of the motivation and the genius of your own inspiration, let your voice be heard, and set the wheels in motion whereby that building process will continue on and on to journey's end!

"You are called upon to reach into the core of your being and draw forth the Ray of Illumination's Flame, or the Ray of Love's overcoming, or the Ray of the Will of God, or any of the Rays of God Consciousness where you have already developed a trusted momentum. Begin where you are. And let that beginning develop a greater momentum so that when you come together under the canopy of the Chohans, you will be receptive to a greater impetus of that very God Quality, enabling your Presence to make Its Voice known to you."

-The Maha Chohan
